It is our painful duty to record the death by drowning of Mr. Colin Clark, brother of Mr. A. H. Clark, of this town, while bathing in Hog Lake, Madoc, Ont., on the 6th inst. He had along with a companion been out in the morning shooting, and about noon proposed to have a bathe, but his companion refused to join him. Going out alone in a boat he appears to have grasped the side of it when in the water, which turning over held him underneath. Rising after a time to the surface, he attempted to swim to a log a short distance from him, but sank before reaching it. A large number of people searched for the body, which was not found till the next day, having been brought to Toronto and interred in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. SHEEP RAISING.

The introduction of sheep to our district on a scale calculated to insure, at no distant date, their becoming an important feature in the stock raising to which it is to be hoped our farmers will more and more turn their attention, deserves a more lengthy notice than our space allowed in our issue of the 17th inst. It would perhaps be difficult to find any stronger argument to persuade our farmers to go into mixed farming than has been furnished by the result of this season's operations. We cannot imagine that there will any longer be any hesitation with regard to going to some extent into stock on the part of farmers who can find means to get a start, and there cannot be many who will find themselves unable to purchase the few sheep required to make a beginning next year, and sheep to do well here will be best handled in small flocks, kept within the limits of fenced enclosures, so as to compel them to keep down to the length best fitted for them, the naturally too strong and rank grass of our country. A correspondent, who by the way farmed for some two years in this neighborhood, writing from a sheep ranch in the State of Wyoming, expresses his conviction that if, as is the case, money can be made by raising stock in what he describes to be as compared with Saskatchewan a very wilderness, that industry should prove most profitable here, while he points out that we escape the storms of cold, rain and snow which kill off so many lambs where he now is, in the latter part of May. We do not see that after the first cost of purchase there need be any but the slight expense of putting up some hay to feed during the worst storms of winter, and some rough sheds for protection, as sheep kept inside fences will not require to be herded, when the dogs, or their owners, have learnt that they must not be molested. At present the dog trouble seems the greatest the sheep have to contend with, so it may be an act of kindness to remind such of the public as have dogs running loose of the bearing of the law as it at present exists in the Territories upon this point. Unless any alteration has been made during the last session of the North West Council, and we have no reason to anticipate any, it is lawful for any one to kill any dog in the act of pursuing, worrying or destroying sheep or lambs, unless they happen to be in act of trespassing on the enclosed land of the owner of the dog. The proof before any magistrate of the possession by any one of a dog, which within three months previous to the complaint being laid, has injured or destroyed sheep or lambs not trespassing, lays the owner open to having such dog destroyed, or to a penalty of twenty dollars, with costs, which penalty in no way lessens the liability of the dog's owner in case of action brought against him for amount of damage done to sheep.

When we remember that the wanton shooting of a dog under other circumstances may entail upon the offender, his instigator or both a term of three months imprisonment upon conviction before any Justice of the Peace, it will be seen how great is the anxiety of the law to protect farmers' stock. We cannot help thinking that it will be a general boon when the owners of dogs are required to take out licenses. It is to be most devoutly hoped that soon our farmers will be going about warmly clad in materials made from the produce of their own farms, instead of in the wretched shoddy stuffs they find so dear and unsatisfactory at present.

SUPPLIED SEED.

Although no official announcement has been made it seems tolerably certain that seed will be supplied on easy terms to bona fide farmers in this district, by the Government, for use in the spring; but as this is not a matter about which we can afford to remain without positively certain information, it would be well for the farmers to address the proper department through the now established agricultural society, or by any other means they may think best, without delay. It may be certainly inferred that unless the idea of obtaining Government aid be utterly without foundation, the present straightened condition of our district must be clearly understood, and were we absolutely certain of this being the case, we would deem it hardly necessary to suggest to the authorities the propriety of affording aid in another way, which will be almost equally welcome. We think that during the winter which has now set in, it would be a graceful act on the part of the Government to suspend the collection of timber dues, at any rate in so far as they touch wood for fuel or other purposes which the settler actually must have. There has been an amount of irritation with regard to the imposition of these dues, which seems out of all proportion to the actual value at stake, and doubtless this soreness has arisen from a feeling that it seems rather small on the part of the Dominion Government to have been in such haste to add to the many hardships which under any circumstances must be suffered by the pioneers of settlement, the more so as the total result of the collections made in this way must represent a very paltry total, after the deduction of the expenses of collection. Of course the most microcephalous rafter in our midst must admit not only the justice but the strong advisability in the interests of all, of imposing as great a tax upon timber as will provide the oversight necessary to prevent waste, nor do any of us contend that we should be put in this respect indefinitely upon a footing other than that of the rest of the Dominion. What we do say is that circumstances alter things, and that at any rate for some time to come, the policy of the Government should be to confine the dues strictly to the amount required for the protection of the timber. We submit further that special consideration should be shown in every possible way to settlements situated as ours is. It should be remembered that while we have been paying our full share of taxes directly and indirectly and our public lands being going to swell the treasury, we have so far from receiving any benefit from the building of the railway, aided from such resources, up to the present time distinctly suffered by the destruction of our market to the north. That this will be represented by our local timber agent, who, as we understand, will leave shortly for Ottawa, we have no doubt, but as it will not be supposed that much importance can be attached by the people as a whole to the matter, unless they make some movement, we would suggest the advisability of sending some communication to Ottawa, bearing the stamp of the people's authority, with regard to the necessary assistance with said grain and the temporary suspension of the timber dues.

OUR BIRTHDAY.

To-morrow being the second anniversary since our back was launched on the troubled sea of journalism, we beg in a word to thank our patrons and friends for their past favors. It has been our endeavor to bring the district into notice at home and abroad, and to take the part of the heat and safest measures on all questions relating to the improvement and advancement of this North West country. It cannot be supposed we have pleased everyone in the views we have taken, but we trust we have not been wholly unsuccessful in our efforts to do some good to the district in particular and the country in general, and for the future we can only say that we enter upon the third year of our existence with a determination to merit a continuance of the favors we have already received, and shall spare no pains or expense to make our paper pleasing to the public. We expect to be aided by increased subscriptions and advertisements, and whilst thanking our kind advertising patrons, we may draw the attention of those who could assist by advertising their wares, and at the same time increase their business by so doing. The latest telegraphic dispatches and news will be received before going to press, and we shall always be pleased to publish correspondence from any part of the country. Communications if clothed in decorous language, and free from personalities, shall always be inserted. In conclusion, we hope to be enabled to improve our paper in various ways by the increased assistance of our many friends which will encourage us to fresh exertions to bring it up to the standard we have marked out for it, as the leading paper of the North West.

LORNE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Annual Dinner.

The annual dinner of the Society took place in the Grand Central Restaurant, on Thursday evening, Oct. 23rd, being purveyed by Mr. T. Oran. There were upwards of seventy present. The chair was occupied by the President of the Society, Mr. Angus Cameron. The croupiers were Mr. Andrew Spence, 1st Vice-President; and Mr. Wm. Miller, Sr., 2nd Vice-President. The party at dinner included the following gentlemen: Capt. Macdonald, member W. W. Council, Capt. Hays, J. McDonald, P. Atkinson, R. Gwynne, J. MacArthur, J. Miller, J. Stewart, J. Treason, W. Stewart, C. Adams Secretary of the Society, Wm. Niven, G. C. MacLeod, Wm. Shipman, R. Fish, and D. Peterson.

After dinner the President proposed the toast of "The Queen," which was duly honored.

The Chairman then gave "The Prince of Wales, Princess of Wales, and other members of the Royal Family," which met with loud and repeated cheers.

The next toast from the Chair was that of the "Governor General," which was received with the warmest enthusiasm.

In a few brief but eloquent remarks, the Chairman next introduced Capt. Macdonald, who rose amid cheers and said:

Mr. Chairman, croupiers and gentlemen your President has asked me to give you my ideas on the financial state of the Lorne Agricultural Society, but not knowing how the finances stand, I am unprepared to go into the subject, but have no doubt all the information required can be had from the Secretary of the Society, Mr. Adams. The farmers are those whom we have to look to in this country for its proper development, and they depend on the backbone of this district. I was very pleased to see the exhibits of home manufacture and dairy products to-day at the exhibition, for it convinced me that bacon, cheese and butter can be made here equal to, if not superior than elsewhere in the Territories. Butter, which was shown by many entries, will always command a market; cheese, the exhibits of which were very fine, could find a ready sale, and if cheese was made here cheaper than it could be brought into the district, then that money would remain with us. Bacon was always great demand in the country and in this district. No less a sum than $250,000 having been spent during the past year in importing bacon, and that money could be also kept in the country, if the farmers gave their attention more to pork than they had done, and we all saw to-day we could manufacture good bacon as could be imported.

I have heard that an oatmeal mill is to be started here soon, although it is an expensive mill, and there is not such a large sale. Good oats can be grown here and the farmers could prove that wheat can be grown in this district better than elsewhere. From my own experience I have found wheat weighing 68 and 69 lbs to the bushel, and I question if there is any place to compare with it in wheat growing properties. Three years ago I was through the large farms in Minnesota and found the wheat very poor. The Manitoba newspapers said some time ago that their wheat although frozen, very good flour could be made from it. If we have a loss in frozen wheat, it is a partial loss, which was much better than losing the whole by drought. The district is a good one for feeding cattle, new stock are coming in, and I have no doubt that bright days are in store for us. There have not been numerous exhibits to-day, but this was the Society's first show, and it was a pity there were not many exhibitors. On the whole he thought the show very good taking the bad weather into consideration. The exhibit of hoar and cattle were very fair for this place, and there was certainly a good display of sheep. Roots and grain taking the season into consideration, were better than for many others expected. The crop this year was by no means a total failure.

Mr. Miller on behalf of the office bearers responded to the toast and said: It was a pity there were not many exhibitors. for he alone would thrash 1,000 bushels. Wheat can be raised here equal to any place in the Territories and we could equally fatten cattle. He trusted all would join together to make their show next year a grand success.

Mr. Charles Adams then gave the history of the Society since its commencement and said: The Society were indebted to the inhabitants of Prince Albert for the manner they had come forward and supported them. Mr. Thomas McKay, who had been prevented from being present at the dinner owing to an accident at his farm, having become security for $200 they required before opening the show to-day. We were greatly indebted to Mr. Macdonald for the generous way he had supported them, and the Hon. L. Clarke was entitled to their special thanks for his substantial support he having given an additional sum of $20 to-day, to enable the Protestant and Roman Catholic school children to attend the show. Mr. Swanston had also aided them, and he called upon his brother farmers to give three hearty cheers for those gentlemen.

Mr. VanLoven proposed "The Judges" which was responded to by Messrs. Denon and John Stewart. The latter gentleman remarking that better bacon, butter and cheese he had never seen.

The toast of the "Press" was proposed by Mr. MacArthur and responded to by Mr. Wm. Niven.

Mr. Miller proposed "The Band," which was responded to by Mr. Thomas Powers.

Mr. Powers proposed "The Ladies," and intimated that next year he would give a prize of $20, to be competed for by the fair sex.

Mr. John Macdonald, gardener, ably responded.

The dinner was then brought to a close by the singing of "God save the Queen."

THE AGRICULTURAL SHOW.

The Price List.

The show which was held on the 23rd inst., may be claimed as being a success, for although the entries were not numerous, still the exhibits were very good in most of the classes. The bad season was very much against the first exhibition of the Society, still the directors, and especially the secretary, Mr. C. Adams, deserve great praise for the manner they collected many exhibits which would not have been entered, and for the systematic way the proceedings of the day were conducted.

After the formal opening of the show by the President, Mr. Angus Cameron, addresses were delivered by the Hon. L. Clarke and Mr. Macdonald. The judges were then decorated with their badge of office and the public excluded from the show yard and building where the home manufactured articles, etc., were exhibited, when the various adjudgments gave general satisfaction.

The thoroughbred, fat, working and grade cattle were excellent examples and showed how suitable the district is for fattening cattle.

Sheep were well represented, a special prize being given.

The show of pigs created great interest among the public during the day. The first prize for Berkshire hogs being given to Mr. J. J. Thomson, but a hog shown by Mr. T. Scott, which was too late to be entered, was decidedly the better of the two.

Mr. Dilworth carried off the two first prizes for horses, with his fine stallion and brood mare. Mr. Spence's stallion gained the first prize for native horses; and W. C. McKay's showy team taking the place of first for native ponies. Altogether the various classes of horses were well represented.

In the home manufactures the bacon was found to be of choice quality and equal to any ever imported. The first prize was awarded to Mr. A. Cameron, but there was very little difference between the second prize taken by Mr. Stanfield, and the first. The whole exhibit of butter was of prime quality, and the judges found some difficulty in making the awards, although no doubt existed as to their final judgment. The samples sent in by Mr. J. McFadden were of excellent quality, and but for the salting might have been winners. The first prize in cheese was taken by Mr. J. McFadden, but all the exhibits were of good quality; one of the judges remarking that he had not tasted better since he left the Old Country.

Agricultural productions were well represented; potatoes especially being very fine. Samples of timothy seed were shown by Mr. Glaister.

In domestic manufactures Capt. Hoey took first prizes in stockings and mitts, which showed that the gallant Captain can while away the long evenings with profit, if he sticks to the knitting pins. Miss E. Foulis showed some beautiful crochet work, which was awarded a special prize given by Mr. Duck.

The show was well attended, and the P. A. C. Band played selections during the day. The Hon. L. Clarke with his usual generosity contributed $20 to enable the Protestant and Roman Catholic school children to attend, and they were granted a half holiday. The proceedings were brought to a close by a dinner at night a report of which will be found in another column. The following were the prize winners.
